She explained that during those years, she and other members have worked hard to make the event as free as possible for the families who attend. She explained that she and her crew of Committee members seek out sponsorship to make the event as free as possible. She continued that she has heard that two women on the Town Board have been complaining about what the Brant Festival is costing. She explained that through sponsorship and fund raising, the event costs the Town nothing. She added that the sponsorship brought in more than it cost. She has decided to no longer chair the event.

Councilwoman Marien responded that as an auditor, they have a right to question expenses. Councilwoman Giancarlo suggested next time they have a question; they simply call her and she would explain.

COUNCILWOMAN MARIEN: Councilwoman Marien announced she had gone to the Amish to order 16 six-foot-long picnic tables. She noted that she got prior approval from the Supervisor.

PRIVILEGE OF THE FLOOR:

Bill Kender of Eden NY representative of NY Citizens Audit spoke to the Town Board. He noted that when they audited the publicly available NYSE voter database which is the official record for administering and certifying Federal elections and New York's County Voter roll data bases they discovered there are millions of violations of material violations of State and Federal election laws within these official documents, almost 6 million clear prima Facie violations of registration law. He added that following the 2020 General Election, there were 338,000 more votes cast than voters who voted. They also discovered that three quarters of a million votes were cast by people whose registration records violate election law. Peer reviewed and published findings in the Scientific Journal of the work they did show this was all being done on the back end in the data bases, not by voters, and maybe not even by election officials. Cyber Intelligence experts have confirmed to the New York Citizens Audit that the NYSE database has been breached and is embedded with Algorithmic programming that violates the law, is carefully hidden and is predictive, meaning they can predict information about registered voters based on their ID numbers, that we shouldn't be able to predict. In a voter roll database, there is such an incredible likelihood that this is being used for fraud that it has to be investigated. In other words, they are manipulating the voter rolls which are embedded with hidden code. Cyber Intelligence experts agree. This means, they should not be using the NYSE database as a source to certify and administer a general election.

Supervisor DeCarlo asked Mr. Kender what he is asking of the Town Board. He also asked who would pay for the audit. Mr. Kender referred the answer to this question to his partner Mark Wolfling who was also present.

Mark Wolfling of the Town of Aurora, representative of NY Citizens Audit: Mr. Wolfling explained they are asking for the Town Board to sign the resolution. They will then push it up to the County Legislator John Mills, and they will eventually write a bill to do the audit. The funds are there from the "Help America Vote" Act. The Supervisor then asked who would perform the audit, the State? Mr. Wolfling responded that it would have to be performed by an independent auditor chosen by the Legislators. He noted that this was one of the last five items contained at the end of the resolution. He added that NYS Board of Elections has never been audited and they just want the laws to be followed. He complimented the Board for requiring such detailed accounting from the various departments, and he would like the NYS Board off elections to do the same. Supervisor DeCarlo responded that they will give a hard look at what he has presented. He asked that the information also be forwarded to the Town Clerk.

Frank Broughton, Brant Road resident: Thanked Councilwoman Giancarlo for the hard work and dedication for the Brant Summer Festival. He asked her to reconsider stepping down. He explained that he makes very little money performing his Zoning Board duties as Chairman, but does it for his community. He urged her to remain part of the Community event.

Supervisor DeCarlo also thanked Councilwoman Giancarlo for the many hours she put in for the event. Giancarlo added that all the members of the committee put many hours. Councilman Muffoletto acknowledged that she put in the majority of hours.

Anne Prince, resident of Wide Beach: Anne spoke to the Town Board about the road situation. She would like to formally ask if a couple of Town Board members could come to one of their work sessions to help them move forward. Supervisor DeCarlo asked the Town Attorney if we heard back from their attorney. The Town Attorney responded that he had spoken with two different attorneys. The last of the two had not been formally retained but his family owns property. He suggested the Town Supervisor and another Board member sit down with their committee. The Town Attorney also noted that he will also attend. Supervisor DeCarlo will send an email to initiate the communication.
